Your letter of 14 December 2011

Page 1/1

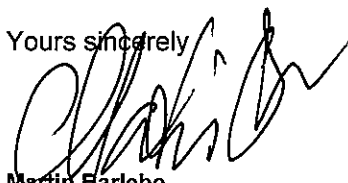

Dear Laurent Meeschaert

In your letter you inquire whether ALK uses stem cells in its research.

At present, the use of stem cells/human embryo is not relevant in allergy research. ALK is not engaged in any research involving the use of human embryo. Nor do ALK have any plan to do so. However, we have not stated any company policy in relation to the use of human embryo in research as it has not been relevant.

I hope this information answers your questions.

Yours sincerely

Martin Barlebo
